SEMINAR OVERVIEW

Cardiovascular disease (CVD) is the leading cause of death globally, with 12 million deaths yearly worldwide. It affects over 81.1 million Americans, and the economic cost of managing the disease is over $300 billion annually. This seminar aims to demystify CVD, providing clinicians with insights into its causes and powerful tools for prevention.

The seminar debunks popular myths about cholesterol and offers clinically relevant laboratory assessment tools. It reviews cardiovascular physiology and pathology, explores epidemiological and economic statistics related to CVD, and teaches approaches to diet, exercise, lifestyle, and herbal and nutritional medicine to treat and prevent CVD.

Considering the staggering prevalence of this needless disease, this is one of the most important and practical seminars available today.

Through this seminar, clinicians can learn to prevent suffering and premature death from CVD in their patients and community.
